COMMUNITY OUTREACH DEFINITION AND GUIDELINES

Community Outreach – the donation of time or resources to benefit a community or its institutions such as nonprofit, civic or community-based organizations in an effort to improve the quality of life for community residents

What counts?

- Any projects that are required for a class as long as it isn’t part of a degree’s graduation requirements (i.e.: internships or practicums)
- Money raised for SAAC sponsored events ($5=1 hour)
  - All hours will be given to the team as a whole – not the individual
- Cans donated for the Thanksgiving canned food drive (5 cans=1 hour)
  - All hours will be given to the team as a whole – not the individual
- Blood donation for a blood drive (equal to one hour)
- Team clinics done without monetary benefit to coach or team
- Any work done as part of a service organization
- Any projects done with the idea of helping others without monetary benefit
- Service done at an Athletics Department event to help the department as a whole
- Projects done outside of Greenville that are within our community outreach parameters
- Participation in walks for charity

A few guidelines to remember:

- Anything that involves the donation of money or goods must be voted on by SAAC if the donating party would like it to count as community outreach
- All community outreach must be preapproved by Jamie Quinn or Tim Metcalf
- All forms must be submitted for credit to be given. See flow chart for clarification of process.
